

School Research Decision

You have now researched three (3) schools that interest you and/or that offer a program along the lines of the career you chose to research earlier in the class. Based on all of the information you gathered from your research, write a Defend Your Position paper on what school you have chosen as your first choice. You need to write this paper as if your parent/guardian doesn't want you to go to this college. Your job is to tell them, via this paper, why this college is a great school and why it is the best choice for you.

Your paper should be typed, and at least three (3) paragraphs long. A paragraph should have at least four (4) sentences.

Your paper should touch on some of the following topics:

- School and School Type
- Location – include the city and state, and the Setting (i.e., rural, urban, etc.)
- Faculty Information – include full and part-time numbers, and student/faculty ratio
- Admissions – include Entrance Difficulty and Undergraduate Application Requirements
- Academics – include Certifications Offered, Credit Requirements, and Required Courses
- Expenses – include overall cost, broken down by each category (i.e., tuition, books, etc.)
- Enrollment – include all Student numbers, and the Freshman ACT scores

Make sure to use the information you gathered during your research to write this paper.

Be sure to proofread and spellcheck your paper for any and all grammatical/spelling errors.
